The Commissioners state that last year there was either remitted from America, or expended for prepaid passages to America, by Irish settiers there, no less than £990,000 to enable their friends and relatives to follow them to their adopted homes. The number of emigrants from Ireland to the United States and Canada in 1851 was 238,016; the whole cost of which, as steerage passengers, would be £892,931 4s 6d., or nearly £100,000 less than the sum absolutely remitted or paid, and which was retained, no doubt, for the use of relatives remaining in Ireland. This is a very suggestive subject. Ireland diminished 1,659,330 in her population between 1841 and 1851, and the result of fair calculution is, that there was a further decrease of 192,215 last year. Taking the United Kingdom as a whole, the annual increase of births over deaths will do little more than balance the annual em gration. Ireland will decrease this year 215,183; Great Britain will increase 227,368. For the first time upon record, without famine or plague, the population of the United Kingdom has bebecome stationary .- Balt. Sun.
